IV. Procedures

A. Complaint/Complainant

1. If a Complaint is raised, the Investigator will review it to determine issues, potential witness, and sources of pertinent information (e.g., documents).
2. If the Complainant is known, the Investigator will:
 - a. Promptly contact the Complainant for an interview.
 - b. Schedule an interview appointment.
 - c. Based on a review of the Complaint and an interview with the Complainant, determine if the Complaint raises issues of Discrimination and/or Harassment.
 - d. Conduct an investigation if he/she determines that Discrimination and/or Harassment allegations have been raised.
 - e. If he/she determines that the Complaint does not raise Discrimination and/or Harassment issues, he/she will explain this to the Complainant and give the Complainant alternate avenues to pursue, if applicable.
3. If it is an anonymous complaint, the Investigator will:
 - a. Attempt to determine the identity of the Complainant, so that she/he can interview the Complainant.
 - b. If the identity of the Complainant is not determined, investigate the complaint to the degree possible based on information available, assuming the Complaint raises Discrimination and/or Harassment allegations.
 - c. If the Complainant's identity is determined, follow steps IV.A.2.a-e above.

B. Complainant Interview

The Investigator will:

1. Advise the Complainant that the Complaint is confidential to the degree it can be kept confidential. The Investigator may need to disclose the identity of the Complainant and/or the details of the Complaint to those who have a business and/or legal need to know, e.g., the Accused, administrators or a third party due to a valid subpoena.
2. Advise the Complainant to keep the allegations and investigation confidential. If discussed, it could negatively impact the investigation and/or could provide the basis for a defamation suit.
3. Advise the Complainant regarding the University's policy against retaliation, and to report any alleged retaliation.
4. Advise the Complainant of the University's legal obligation to investigate allegations of Discrimination and/or Harassment.
5. Advise Complainant of CSUEB's policy on false allegations, i.e., Complainants who knowingly and willfully bring false allegations of Discrimination and/or Harassment are subject to corrective and/or disciplinary action from the University.
6. Gather facts on the allegations, e.g., who, what, where, why, when and how (e.g., Accused identity, date, specifics and witnesses).
7. Document the Complainant's visit, the time and date of the interview, and statements in writing.
8. Request and obtain documentary and other evidence supporting the allegations.
9. Based on a review of any Complaint, and an interview with the Complainant, determine if the Complaint raises issues of Discrimination and/or Harassment.
10. If the Complaint involves issues of Harassment:
 - a. Determine if the Complainant and accused need to be separated during the investigation.
 - b. Ask the Complainant what he/she would like to see done to remedy the Harassment.
11. Advise the Complainant when to expect the investigation to be completed, if investigation is deemed necessary.

C. Notification

The Investigator will advise the appropriate administrators of the impending investigation, e.g., Director of Human Resources, Provost/VP for Academic Affairs, VP Planning, Enrollment Management, and Student Affairs, and/or the head of department, Dean and/or Chair.
